

Figure S2: Predicted probabilities of use of protective ventilation with comparison of inverse probability treatment weights, multivariable regression and the primary analysis using a propensity score centered on the mean to adjust for confounding within a mixed effects model.

