

"I would like to give my left breast a score of 8. The nipple is not perfect and there is no areola tattoo yet. At this moment, I rate my right breast with a 1. The implant does not feel good: it is hard and painful. My skin is stretched and thin. The ridge above is also very ugly. Together, I rate my breasts with a 4.5."

"The size of my breasts are one reason for not giving my breast a top mark. I went from a size E-F to a size C. I expected my breasts to be closer together, more décolleté. The scar below my left breast does not feel comfortable and the nipple on the left side is completely flat."

"The reason for not rating my breasts with a 10, is that there is too much skin on the sides of my breasts. I find this very ugly. Also my breasts feel very hard and the colours of my nipples do not appeal to me."

"In comparison with my own breasts I give them a 2. I loved my own breasts, they were identical. The feeling is gone now. I really miss that. Underneath clothing, I look alright. Only when bending over, I am afraid that someone can see it. Especially when you contract your breast muscle they seem to move and look flat. You get used to the temperature. In the end it is easier than external prostheses, for this reason I would rate them with an 8, which makes an average rate of 5."
