

Supplemental Digital Content 3 - Figure 2. Effects of HAART on caudate volume. In this longitudinal subgroup (n=12), measurements of caudate volume were obtained both just prior to and ~6 months after being on a stable HAART regimen. All subjects were suppressed virologically after HAART and had improvement in CD4 cell count. However, no significant changes in brain volume were seen after starting HAART.

