

eFigure 1: New or enlarging lesions in the absence of clinical attack do not predict clinical relapse

Kaplan Meier curve depicting the time in months to next clinical relapse in MOGAD patients that developed a new or enlarging lesion (yes) and those that did not (no). The number of scans considered at each timepoint is listed below the graph. There was no significant difference between the curves (Log rank test $p=0.2694$).