Figure E4: Commercial 2D segmentation and 3D segmentation methods for measuring the GCL+IPL thickness in the macula region of eyes with papilledema at enrollment into the IIHTT shows a number of 'failures' or erroneously reduced values with the 2D method.