

Supplemental Figure. Safety-engineered insulin syringe (0.5-mL size) with 6-mm needle (top), before (middle), and after (bottom) 1-handed subcutaneous insulin administration. The safety mechanism is pushed to slide over the needle with the thumb of the hand used to administer the injection.

